

MY TIME TO FLY

Ronald Bradley 2014

When the echo of my last heartbeat fades away

And in my chest is the last breath I'll ever take

When my days on earth are all gone

And the cold, chill of death fills my bones

Some may think it's time to cry

But, I say rejoice for me when it's my time to fly

CHORUS :

FOR I'LL FLY HIGHER THAN EAGLES HAVE EVER FLOWN

I'LL FLY WITH ANGELS WHEN I'M HEADED HOME

SO LET THERE BE A CELEBRATION

HEAVEN IS MY FINAL DESTINATION

I BID YOU PLEASE DON'T CRY

WHEN IT'S MY TIME TO FLY

When they lower that box into the ground

I know six feet of earth can't hold me down

I'll arrive just inside the gate

Before that first flower begins to fade

So brush that tear from your eye

And rejoice for me when it's my time to fly

CHORUS 2 X

There'll be no need to cry

When it's my time to fly
